Serbs Holding Bulgars. Along the eastern front the Serbians appear to be holding their own against the Bulgarians and are making a stand on the western bank of the Morava river. So stubborn has been their resistance that the Bulgarians have had to call for assistance from the Austro-German artillery in their effort to drive the defenders out of Katchanik Pass. Thus far they have been unsuccessful. works and reviewed the garrison. After lunch the emperor and the grand duke visited the harbor and boarded the transport Europe, on which were drawn up the crew of a Russian submarine and the crew of a British underwater boat. The emperor personally decorated the two submarine commanders with the Cross of the Order of St. George fourth class.

Allies Receive Reinforcements. The British and French troops The British and French troops, which are receiving reinforcements, are also meeting with some success and besides repuising the Bulgarian attacks have undertaken small offensive movements with good results. The Austro-Germans and Bulgarians, however, made such progress from the beginning of the campaign that it will take serious work now to check them. Political Situation Grave.

For the moment, the political situa-tion is graver than the military. The Greece against the landing of allied troops at Saloniki. King Constantine is reported to have replied that as Saloniki is an open port there has been no infringement of Greek rights in the landing and that Greece will remain neutral until one of the belligerents transgressed against those rights Italy, who has now joined her allies by sending a warship to Saloniki, and France are particularly anxious as to the attitude of Greece.

Germans Repelled by Russians. The Russians have definitely repelled Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's drive toward Riga and Dvinsk and along the Dvina river and have themselves taken the offensive, but apparently, owing to the state of the ground, have been able to make only slow progress in the marsh region west of Riga. Austro-Germans Pierce Russian Lines Along the Styr river, in the south, the Austro-Germans, by a counter-attack, have pierced the Russian lines and captured 1,500 prisoners, according trokes are about all that can be exected on the eastern front while the On the western front there have been so events of importance. "It is a new proof of the patriotic mind. It is worthy of the great name of the Krupp whose fame as Germany's first armorer is brightened by this splendid initiative in social welfare and this willingness to make sacrifices."
